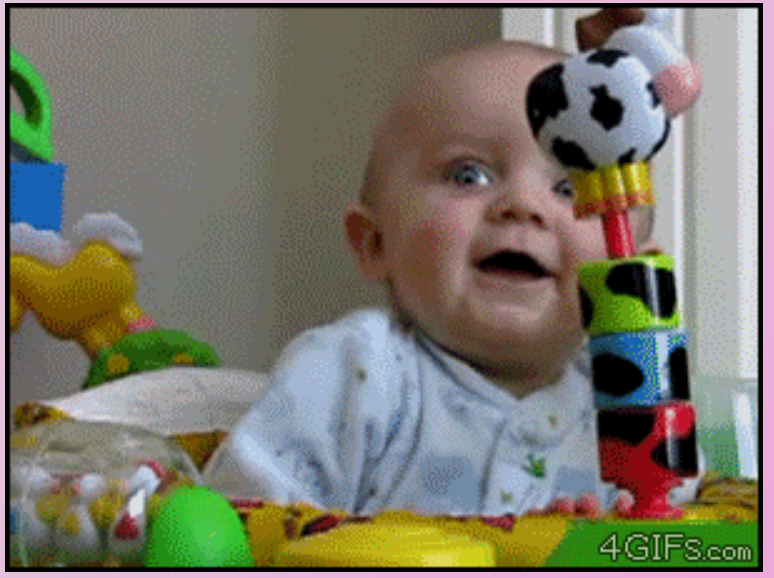
Cover work for PL during paternity leave

While I’m dealing with this:



And this:

Cover work for PL during paternity leave

Year 12

- Work towards the first draft of the coursework essay.

What is the coursework essay?

- An analysis of a film extract - 1500 words (30 marks)
- Candidates are required to explore how one or more of mise-en-scène, performance, cinematography, editing, and sound construct meaning and provoke response in a film extract.
- Candidates are encouraged to support their work with illustrative visual material.
- Recommended length of extract: approximately 3-5 minutes (depending on the complexity of the extract).

But what if you go before we've learned all that??????????????

- Select your film extract.
- You need to organise a rota where you screen for each other your chosen film extract during lesson time. You should manage 3-4 each time.
- Present your extract to the class and swap notes and suggestions on micro features and possible effects on the audience. MAKE NOTES
- You can also read up about cinematic style using the text books in the cupboard and the printed handbooks I have given you.
- There is also a huge amount of material on the web site for you to expand your knowledge of film form.

It’s a first draft – it is ok to go wrong

(Obviously, it is better if you go right first time)

On the other hand, I might be here for two more weeks…
